PROGRESSIVES PLAN BIG DAY AT COMPTON

SPEAKERS OF CONSIDERABLE
NOTE WILL ADDRESS THE
BULL MOOSERS.

WELL KNOWN MEN COMING

Leading Progressives of This Vicinity Have Been Invited—Winn, Harris and Fordham Are Local Committee.

A large crowd is expected to attend the progressive picnic at Compton on Friday, Oct. 3rd.

A great many Dixon people have signified their intention of being there, the ladies being especially anxious to hear Virginia Brooks. This will be the first women's suffrage speech to be made by a lady within the county and many desire to hear it. Of course the ladies will take their husbands along to hear what is said and get the benefit of it.

Miss Brooks has been called the "Joan of Arc" of West Hammond. She led a movement there that rid the town of its undesirable element and cleaned up the political situation. She was one of the first to show that women have their place in politics.

Frank H. Funk, who is to speak, was the first candidate for governor on the progressive ticket in Illinois. He is a farmer and seed grower and the farmers should turn out to hear him. During the campaign last fall, while he was making a speech, he said to the crowd: "Perhaps you don't know who I am." An old farmer in the crowd said: "I don't know who you are, but if you are as good as your seeds, you're all right."

A number of people outside the county have been invited to attend and have signified their intention of being present. Among them are: Roy D. Hunt of DeKalb, progressive; representative from this district; Isaac N. Evans, Milledgeville, progressive member of the board of equalization W. H. Hinebaugh of Ottawa, member of congress from the 12th district; J. T. Williams of Sterling; Walter Hay of Sycamore, candidate for appellate court clerk; C. P. Barnes of Woodstock, candidate for supreme court judge, and others.

John E. Erwin, candidate for county judge, will be present and make an address.

Speaking will be held in the afternoon in the park and in the opera house in the evening. A band concert by the West Brooklyn band will be given in the afternoon and evening. A moving picture show on the street will be given in the evening before the speaking in the hall.

At 3:30 a ball game will be pulled off at the ball park, the contestants being the Dixon Browns and the Menota Regulars. These two semi-pro teams ought to put up a good exhibition of the national game. In all probability the lineup for Dixon will be:

Conlin, c.
Huber, p.
Tracey, 1b.
Keenan or Baker, 2b.
Lightner, 3b.
Kruger, ss.
Connors, lf.
Dalton, cf.
Larkin or Devine, rf.

The ladies of the M. E. church at Compton have provided for inner and supper in the basement of the church so that those who do not take picnic dinners may supply the inner man with eatables.

A local committee consisting of W. H. Winn, H. L. Fordham and A. G. Harris are striving to procure transportation by auto for all Dixonites who care to go. Any auto owner who can or will go and has place for one or more people in his car will confer a favor by phoning any member of the committee, who will assign people to his car. Any person who desires to go can be assigned a place by phoning to the committee. It is planned to have the cars assemble at the court house square at 9 a. m. Friday and the people who are to go to be at the same place at 10:15 hour. Cars will leave promptly, so be prompt. Places will be reserved only for those who make arrangements beforehand, so phone the committee.

JULIUS LLOYD HAS FOUND A NEW WEED

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS SENDS
WARNING ABOUT BEAK
NIGHT SHADE

A few days since Julius Lloyd ran up against a stranger. The stranger was a weed. It was a pretty plant—yellow blossoms, branches spreading towards the top, thistle-like leaves, and about 20 inches high, including a radish-like root, about 4 inches long. Only three or four plants were found, growing in the corner of a lot where fowls had been fed. This food had been shipped in from elsewhere.

In about ten minutes after it was found, the plant was on its way to the State University, whence it elicited the following reply:

Mr. J. A. Lloyd Dixon, Ill.
Dear Mr. Lloyd:

The specimen plant which you sent us is known as beak night shade. The weed is quite common in certain sections in Illinois. We have had a number of inquiries with reference to this plant. It spreads from root and seed and should be checked before it gets a substantial hold. We have no methods but thorough cultivation for the eradication of this plant.

Yours truly,
W. L. BURLERSON

ROAD AND BRIDGE TAX MAKE TROUBLE

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONERS OF
HAMILTON TOWNSHIP
INVESTIGATE.

The highway commissioners of Hamilton township were here today in conference with County Clerk Thompson in regard to the road and bridge tax which will be levied in that township. Under the new road laws of the state the township road and bridge tax is changed and the commissioners of Hamilton were greatly concerned over the prospect of losing their income for this purpose. It is believed, however, that the tax will be spread this year, after which the individual tax will cease, all road and bridge taxes thereafter being levied under the Tice bill.

PREVENTING HOG CHOLERA IN ILL.

FARMERS AND LIVE STOCK COMMISSION CO-OPERATE TO SAVE SWINE.

Springfield, Sept. 30—Farmers are learning how to treat hog cholera and there is not nearly so much of it this year as last, according to A. C. Lowery, secretary of the state board of live stock commissioners. This is the season when the disease is worst, but it is less prevalent than for several years.

The principal reason for healthy droves is that breeders have learned the cholera serum is a preventative and not a remedy. When cholera breaks out the owner of hogs hurry orders for serum to the state laboratory here, immunize their hogs and thus save them.

But while the prevalence of the disease is not so great, the demand for serum is increasing and the laboratory is not able to keep up the supply. The output is from 150 to 200 quarts a week and the demand amounts to about that much every day.

This may be the last year the hog serum will be given away. The civil service commission in its recent report recommended that some remuneration be given the state for saving hogs and this probably will be adopted as a policy of the administration.

ARREST MAKER OF "QUEER"

30gus Money Traced to Art Studio in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 30—In the pretentiously furnished studio of a portrait painter at 2436 West Madison street, behind easels bearing canvases supposedly ordered by wealthy clients, secret service men seized molds, presses and retorts for making spurious coin, and arrested the artist as a counterfeit.

Charles F. Kenlman, who leased the studio, posed as a portrait painter, and old neighbors that he was busily engaged all day long on pictures ordered by well-to-do clients, confessed to Capt. Thomas I. Porter of the United States secret service that he had been making counterfeit coins for two years in Chicago, and that he was arrested on a similar offense in Louisville three years ago under the alias of Robert Ives, but escaped before trial.

Dr. and Mrs. Banker of Franklin Grove motored to Dixon today.

R. R. CONFERENCE OF M. E. CHURCH OPENED THIS A. M.

74TH ANNUAL SESSION OF ROCK
RIVER METHODIST EPIS.
COPAL CHURCH.

MEETING HELD IN FREEPORT

Program for Week More Interesting Than Ever—Held in Em-bury Church.

Freeport, Sept. 30—Rock River conference of the M. E. church began its 74th annual session in Em-bury church this morning at 9:30, and upward of 400 ministers and laymen from the districts of the conference were present. It will be the biggest session ever held, the program for the week including a number of features never before introduced at meetings for this ecclesiastical body. Chief among them will be the labor meetings. Of these there will be the shop meetings each noon in various factories, and a big mass meeting of laboring men on the evening of Oct. 2, when some of the best known champions of organized labor will speak. Another innovation will be the great open-air meeting on the court house steps on Saturday evening, when Bishop McDowell will be one of the speakers.

The auditorium of the church is handsomely decorated, white and yellow prevailing, and autumn leaves, attractively arranged, form a pleasing contrast. The ladies of the church will serve dinners and suppers for the visitors each day, commencing on Wednesday noon. However, the general patronage is invited. A large dining room has been fitted up in the church basement.

Exhibits for Sunday school work and the rural church were placed in the church yesterday. This morning the board of examiners met to conduct an examination of 15 or 20 candidates for the ministry, young men. Sessions will be held morning and afternoon. This evening a reception for the visitors will be held in the church and the Anti-Saloon League's work will be presented by Rev. P. A. Baker, who speaks on "The Next Step." Addresses of welcome from local churches will be made by J. R. Jackson and A. J. Stukenberg.

The conference proper opens Wednesday morning and it is expected that a large number of ministers, especially from Chicago, will arrive on Tuesday evening.

The laymen's meeting, Friday, in the First Methodist church, will bring many men from all over the conference. This meeting is held separately from the meeting of the clergy. Saturday and Sunday will probably bring a large number of laymen also chiefly committees concerned about appointments, which will be announced probably on Monday.

Not Many Changes.

It is not expected there will be as many changes as last year. Dr. Claude S. Moore, superintendent of the Dixon district, is the only one of the district superintendents to move, having reached the six-year period in that office.

Prof. Carver to Speak.

The board of examiners has been fortunate in securing Prof. T. N. Carver of Washington, recognized as one of the best authorities on the rural church problem in America, to give three afternoon lectures on "Rural Church and Community Work."

Another item of interest to preachers will be an address by Marvin Campbell, a South Bend manufacturer, and chairman of the general conference board of conference clergymen. He is a warm advocate of the old preacher and is expected to stir the conference at the anniversary of the Conference Supranational Relief association.

He will find a good field, as most of the Rock River preachers voluntarily give one-half of one per cent of their salaries to the conference relief fund.

ELI IS BETTER.

Eli Rosenthal, who has been ill since the first of the week, is reported much better today.

BECOMING SCIENCED IN GROWING CORN

FARMERS OF ILLINOIS ARE VERY ANXIOUS TO STUDY PROBLEM.

LEE FARMER HAS NEW THEORY

Honeycutt, Famous City Farmer, Raised Corn for Feed, Not Market.

The agitation for the promotion of corn growing which societies, commercial clubs and manufacturers are taking up, as the most ready relief for the present high prices, mention of which has been made in the paper in connection with notices of the publications the societies are issuing, is bearing fruit, and therefore there is reason to believe farmers of this community and those all over the corn producing counties will follow the advice given by those who have studied the conditions.

Following the announcement in this paper that he had many pamphlets on the corn raising question for free distribution, County Superintendent L. W. Miller received countless requests from farmers over the county. While many of the long owners do not agree with theories advanced by the students, all are anxious to study the question and form opinions from what they learn. All of which shows that the campaign being waged by the followers of King Corn is bringing results.

Has Novel Theory.

In connection with the corn promotion, now at its height, the experience of John P. Honeycutt, the Chicago printer who purchased a worn-out farm on Green river and made it a success, is of interest.

Mr. Honeycutt, instead of raising his corn for market, raises it to feed. He plants an early developing variety, and turns his young hogs into it; gradually at first, and finally allowing them free access to the corn fields at any time. However, before he turns the pigs into the corn he feeds them plenty of bone-building material and as a result the corn, which is fattening, can work on a frame that will stand the great increase in the weight; accordingly Mr. Honeycutt estimates that he gets much more out of his corn than if he husked it, stored it and handled it several times to feed during the winter.

The present high price of beef and the prediction of the packers that the price will steadily increase and that the raising of hogs is the only possible way out of the difficulty, makes the corn question of special interest and the fact that Mr. Honeycutt, with his novel but apparently practical theories is able to get top price for his hogs at all times, should interest farmers.

REDUCES TONNAGE ON FREIGHT TRAINS

ILLINOIS CENTRAL ANNOUNCES CHANGE ON FREIGHT-
CLINTON LINE

PREVENT TIE UPS OF FREIGHTS

Permits Trains to Make Better Time—Ten to Twelve Cars Less on Each Train

Officials of the Illinois Central railroad company have placed an order in effect that the tonnage on all freight trains running between Freeport and Clinton be reduced 100 tons, the order becoming effective at once. This order has been issued as the result of a desire to permit freight trains to get over the road and not "tie up" crews, also to do away with the "see-sawing" of trains, which has been the usual custom on that branch, owing to the fact that the large type of engine will draw such large trains that it is impossible for two trains to pass at a station, because the sidings will not hold the long string of cars.

In the past the tonnage of trains has ranged from 2000 to 28000 tons. The rules of the company specifying different tonnages for the different grades along the line, with the result that in many places the tonnage was very heavy. Under the new rule a certain tonnage will be given each train, allowing them to meet at stations without switching trains for a great length of time, and the reduction will also let them run at faster speed.

The fact that 100 tons has been taken off the trains will mean there will be from ten to twelve cars less on each train, except coal trains. In this instance two or three cars will be taken off, as each coal car carries from 35 to 55 tons of coal.

Taking ten cars from each train will permit the average train to pass at most meeting places and in some instances the passenger trains can pass where two freight trains are on the siding without "see-sawing" for 20 or 30 minutes, which in the past has been the rule rather than the exception.

COULD READ FACES.

"Yes, sir," went on Professor X—to a gentleman to whom he had recently been introduced. "I have given some attention to the study of human nature, and I rarely fail to read a face correctly. Now, there is a lady," he continued, pointing across the room, "the lines of whose countenance are as clear to me as type. The chin shows firmness of disposition amounting to obstinacy; the sharp-pointed nose, a vicious temper; the large mouth, volubility; the eyes, a dryness of soul; the—"

"Wonderful, professor—wonderful!" "You know something of the lady, then?" said the professor, complacently.

"Yes, a little. She's my wife,"—TH-BITS.

Before the subject is forgotten, class with the "lot of wire" the man who, after his kid has started a fight with a smaller boy and gets the worst of it, slaps the victorious youngster, thereby teaching his own child that "Dad" is the only one to be depended upon. Raus' mit both of 'em.

Still, there may be something in the theory that we all need the disagreeable things—and persons—to make us appreciate those things that meet our approval. Wherefore, the great and only pile of rusty wire may make us appreciate the beauties of a nicely kept lawn.

And the littleness of some men makes us all unite in liking the big-hearted, broad-minded men.

Which concludeth today's lesson. Neighbors of prospective vocalists might accomplish a two-fold good by chipping in to send the young lady to some musical college.

To the anxious who would impart the information that the first term of the commission form of government expires next April.

And—Heaven help us!—we're afraid the wire will still "grace" that vacant corner lot.

REVOLT IS RIDICULED

Redmond Says Home Rule Is Already Won for Ireland.

Protestants Hold Services Throughout Ulster Commemorating Signing of Covenant to Resist.

London, Sept. 29.—While it is evident that the English leaders of both parties are in a conciliatory mood toward the home rule question, it also is evident that Irish leaders are not. John E. Redmond, in two speeches at Cahirciveen, County Kerry, Ireland, gave a calm but uncompromising answer to Sir Edward Carson's defiance.

The Irish Nationalist leader ridiculed the Ulster provisional government and Sir Edward Carson's army, and declared that the home rule cause had won.

Services were held in many of the churches throughout Ulster representing the Church of Ireland and the Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregational, Baptist and Moravian bodies, in commemoration of the anniversary of Ulster day, when the covenant to resist home rule was signed.

The cabinet's hands really are tied in the matter of a compromise, as the Nationalists, under John Redmond, have voted for all the important cabinet measures under the agreement that they be repaid by the passage of the home rule bill.

In a second speech Mr. Redmond declared that the home rulers had been silent, law-abiding and orderly, while their opponents had been shrieking and boasting of illegality and inciting to riot and bloodshed.

Knowing that the destruction of the home rule bill would mean the breakdown of the government's other proposed reforms—Welsh disestablishment and the abolition of plural voting—and would mean also the restoration of the veto of the house of lords and the defeat of British democracy for a generation, he said, it was no wonder that Ireland maintained an attitude of self-restraint and confidence.

POPE'S HEALTH IS FAILING

Will Preside at Coming Jubilee Function.

Rome, Sept. 29.—The condition of Pope Pius X. is giving rise to some anxiety. Although he is not suffering from any specific malady, the state of his health is unsatisfactory. It is believed, however, that rest and care will restore him unless some unforeseen complications arise. Audiences have not been officially suspended, but the attending physicians have agreed to discourage receptions of any kind until the pontiff has entirely recovered his strength. In view of his present weakness it is not considered probable that the pope will preside, as originally arranged, at the great function at the closing of the Constantinian jubilee December 8, the feast of the immaculate conception.

London, Sept. 29.—The pope has granted no audiences for three days, according to a dispatch received here. On Saturday he kept to his bed throughout the day. He is suffering from great weakness.

The first will make a careful study of the present organization of the association and recommend to the directors any plans that in its judgment will make for increased efficiency and greater usefulness.

The second committee, of five members, one each representing city school superintendents, state universities, normal schools, state superintendents and agricultural colleges, will confer and advise on behalf of the association with any committee or commission which may be appointed by congress to frame legislation for federal aid to vocational education or consider plans for such action by the federal government.

HOUSE GETS TARIFF BILL

Measure Will Go to President on Wednesday.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The tariff bill as agreed upon by the Democratic conferees was submitted to the Republican members this morning at ten o'clock. At noon it was reported to the house. Chairmen Underwood and Simmons expect to have it before the president for his approval late Thursday afternoon. Among the 676 amendments made in the senate many related merely to verbiage. The house yielded on 427 and the senate abandoned 161. Compromises were effected on 97. Senator Simmons said, after a report from the treasury experts, that for the first full fiscal year the measure would yield a surplus of $18,000,000.

MOB ATTACKS MAYOR

Desplaines, Ill., Citizens Threaten Ride on Rail.

Executive's Home Guarded Through-out Night to Prevent Violence—Executive Assails Army.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Enraged at a socialistic attack made upon the United States army by Mayor W. M. Dawson of Desplaines, 300 citizens of that suburb, armed with sticks, bricks and stone eggs, practically broke up the city council meeting last night and then waited for nearly an hour outside of the city hall, threatening to ride the mayor out of town on a rail.

It was exactly a meeting, for before Mayor W. M. Dawson had finished calling the meeting to order most of the trustees had bounded out of their chairs, refused to sit with the mayor and bolted for the door.

The mayor listened uncomfortably to the remarks of the indignant villagers, some of whom were expressing a desire to lynch him, and urging him to come out to the village square. He did not accept.

The row has been in sight for the last three weeks. Early in the month the mayor, who was elected on the Socialist ticket last May, ordered the saloons closed on Sunday. That, he says, is responsible for the whole trouble, the liquor element conspiring to embarrass him.

But the rebels gave another cause. In the recent issue of the suburban paper was a letter written by the mayor, warning the boys of the suburb against enlisting. He said "the best thing you can do is to stay out of the army."

But did he read it? Not a line. As soon as he sat down to the council table the city clerk, John A. Bell, Jr., bounded up.

"I've been a soldier," shouted the warlike clerk, waving both his fists, "and I refuse to serve on the same board with this man."

The crowd outside, hearing the applause, joined in with a few yells and then began singing patriotic songs, only to have the music drowned by shouts of "traitor" and "lynch him."

When the mayor finally left, the mob followed him all the way, hooting and threatening. A protracted meeting was held in the square.

As the mayor's party started away from the hall a delegation of women came from a meeting upstairs.

One of the women rushed forward and spat at his face. The mayor, furious, lifted his hand, then shook his head and walked on.

JURY FINDS BIXBY GUILTY

California Millionaire Cleared of Charges Made by Girl.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 30.—George H. Bixby, a millionaire of Long Beach, Cal., charged with having contributed to the delinquency of girls, was found not guilty by a jury. Mr. Bixby was tried on one of two indictments, based on charges preferred against him by Cleo Helen Barker and Marie Brown-Levy, habitues of a dive, the proprietor of which, Mrs. Emma J. Goodman, is now serving a prison sentence as a procuress.

Bixby's defense was that he had visited the resort only as a philanthropist who had spent thousands of dollars to save young girls and had been required by being made the victim of a blackmail conspiracy.

The city authorities again endeavored to get their well in shape on Thursday with the arrival of material for working from Aurora.

That evening about 8 o'clock the top of their grappling iron broke away from the pulling portion and the latter fell into the well. This necessitated manufacturing another weapon to pull the grappling iron out of the well and then to start all over again after the rods. During Thursday, the workers managed to pull four of the rods from the well so that at this time only five are still missing, but they are proving the most stubborn five of the whole lot.

Hunger Strikes.

The problem of the hunger strike was not known in the seventeenth century. Then, however, it was allowed to solve itself. John Evelyn, for instance, in 1656, found martyrs to their beliefs in Ipswich, and entered the fight and its sequel in his diary: "I had the curiosity to visit some Quakers here in prison," he noted on July 8, 1656, "a new fanatic sect, of dangerous principles, who show no respect to any man, magistrate or other."

One of these was said to have fasted 20 days; but another, endeavoring to do the like, perished on the tenth, when he would have eaten, but could not. There is no question of forcible feeding here!—London Chronicle.

Speedy Courtship.

A man recently in New York laid a wager that he would woo, win and marry within an hour a young lady whom, with his companions, he had just seen arrive at the hotel where he was living.

There is nothing in the American marriage law to prevent this dispatch. He introduced himself to the damsel, she smiled upon his suit, a minister was called in, and they were married within an hour.

The wager, of no inconsiderable amount, was handed to the bridegroom, who left with his bride the following day. It was shortly afterwards discovered that the couple had been man and wife, and that they had been traveling about playing the same trick at various hotels.

Miller High Life
The Champagne of Bottled Beer

Has never been excelled—either in purity—quality—taste.

The explanation is simple. HIGH LIFE is brewed with the idea of making it not only wholesome but inviting to the taste—it is the net result of years of development.

It is the one bottled beer you will like because its excellent quality is so noticeable compared with average beers.

Try HIGH LIFE once and you will freely admit it is the "finest tasting beer ever produced." Convince yourself—order a case today. On sale at leading Buffets, Dining Cars and Steamship lines.

We use light bottles exclusively for this high grade beer—common beer comes in dark bottles.

Brewed in Milwaukee by the Miller Brewing Co.

THE BROWN BOTTLE BOOMERANG

European authorities are being quoted by brown bottle advocates. Some of these quotations date as far back as 1882, since which time the world has progressed an inch or two. The opinion of these Europeans are considered of little value for the reason that European brewers are compelled to use brown bottles because foreign bottled beer does not compare in stability with American quality beer. High grade bottled beer has been perfected by the better class of American brewers to the point where it can be safely stored without fear of contradiction that 90 per cent of the country's product is successfully handled in light bottles.

With this situation so definitely understood throughout the brewing industry, it is absurd to promote or make capital of the brown bottle having influence on the quality of the brew. A beer that is naturally immune from deterioration does not need the support of colored bottles to preserve its qualities.

Observe the "moldy," "tinny" dates of letters submitted on the brown bottle question and then bear in mind that Wahl-Henius, America's greatest authority has certified in support of the use of the light bottle for HIGH GRADE BEER as recently as November 12, 1912. Here is their letter:

Chicago, November 12, 1912.

To our Clients—

Please take note that we have recently given our opinion to one of our clients as to the relative merits of the white and the brown bottle for beer, as follows:

"Referring to your recent request for our opinion on the relative merits of the white and the brown bottle for beer, we wish to say that the ONLY advantage of the brown bottle over the light bottle consists in the protection it affords against the influence of light. WHERE BEERS ARE NOT OF SUCH QUALITY AS TO BE IMMUNE.

"Where, however, bottle beers have attained A HIGH DEGREE OF STABILITY, so that they are practically immune to such influences as prolonged chilling and prolonged storage at summer temperature of light, so that with the usual precautions no bad effect need be feared.

"FOR SUCH BEERS THE LIGHT BOTTLE IS PREFERABLY EMPLOYED because it insures thorough cleanliness, and because the finished package reveals at a glance whether the contents meet the requirements of the consumer as to color, clarity and freedom from sedimentation."

"Yours very truly,
"WAHL-HENIUS INSTITUTE OF FERMENTOLOGY."

Dramatic Notes

PRINCESS THEATRE.

James Oppheim's great labor drama, The Fight for Right, in two reels will be shown at the Princess Friday night. This picture with Rosemary Theby and Irving Cummings in the leading roles is a struggle between the labor unions and prison contract labor. John Ward loves the daughter of a rich politician who installs prison contract labor in his mills and thus other factories cannot compete and are thrown out of work and many hardships are encountered in the remainder of the story.

FAMILY THEATRE

The first number on the bill is the Leora Trio, who made their first appearance in this section a short time ago, in their aerial novelty in which they perform startling feats. They are recently from Europe. The act is controlled by the Pantages circuit, with which the Family is affiliated, and is said to be the best ever shown here.

The DeStefano Bros., harpist and violinist, are expert entertainers and play refined music. This is one of the best musical acts ever in this city.

IS IMPROVING.

CHINESE BANDITS LOOT TOWN

Take TsaoYang and Capture Eight Foreigners.

Peking, Sept. 30.—A missionary telegram received at Hankow from Fancheng, in the north of the province of Hu-Peh, says:

"Bandits looted Friday and still hold the town of TsaoYang. Eight foreigners, according to apparently authentic reports, were captured by them."

Edward T. Williams, charge d'affaires of the American legation, made representations to the Chinese office during the day calling for the protection of the American missionaries. At the request of J. Paul Jameson, acting American consul at Hankow, Gen. Li Yuen Heng, vice-president of the Chinese republic, is sending troops to the district, but TsaoYang is a long distance from Hankow. It is hoped the Chinese brigands will respect the captured foreigners.

MANY BUILDING
SILOS IN PITSPROFESSOR AT UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS TELLS OF THE METHODS.

IS VERY ECONOMICAL WAY

Some Trouble to Get Ensilage Out of Pit But Silo is More Economical Than the High Towers.

(By K. J. T. Erblaw, Farm Mechanics, University of Illinois.)

The unprecedented drought of the present year has done much to emphasize the necessity of having a silo to provide summer feed for cattle. As a result the demand for silos is enormous and many farmers have become sufficiently interested in them to insure the construction of probably twice as many within the next year as have been in any previous year. A silo, however, is a more or less expensive proposition and many farmers hesitate to expend the several hundred dollars required to build one.

The two important considerations are economy and durability and are combined in a type known as the pit silo, recently much discussed. A prominent northern Illinois farmer has built two, one 12 feet in diameter and 20 feet deep with plastered walls, which cost but $35, while the other is 12 feet in diameter by 25 feet deep with brick walls, costing $89.

Of course it must be clearly understood at the beginning that the requisite for the successful construction of a pit silo is a soil in which there is no chance for seepage through the walls; in other words the soil must be naturally dry and well drained, and the water level of the water table must be below the bottom of the silo. Given this requisite the construction of a pit silo is entirely practicable and feasible; otherwise its construction should by no means be attempted.

While pit silos are comparatively few in Illinois, their use in the west has been sufficiently wide to form opinions concerning them. The method of construction varies somewhat in different localities, according to the character of the soil and the degree of elaborateness and stability desired.

The simplest practical form of pit silo is: Excavation is begun by digging a trench a foot wide and a foot deep around the top, with the interior diameter the same as that of the pit; fill this pit with a mixture of concrete and when it has hardened remove the earth within the trench to a depth of five or six feet. Plaster the earth wall with plaster composed of one part cement to two and one-half parts of sand, applying two or three coats of plaster until nearly an inch thick—a little lime and some hair will make the plaster more workable. When this portion of the wall has been completed remove another five feet of earth and repeat the plastering. Continue this process until the required depth has been reached, when a floor may be put in, or if desired a part of the silo may be constructed above the ground, and if this is done the concrete ring at the top must be made a little thicker to serve as a foundation. While some authorities claim a roof is not necessary, it is always desirable, and can be constructed for a few dollars. If the soil is loose and shows signs of caving in, it may be necessary to lay up a four inch wall of brick laid in cement mortar.

The problem of removing the silage is an important one and is usually solved by the farmer in a way to suit his convenience and conditions. The silage may be removed by hoisting it hand over hand in buckets or baskets, but this is very laborious. Some form of power hoist had best be provided, either using a windlass or the hay fork carriage, using in either case a carrier with a capacity of several hundred pounds of silage.

The chief advantage of the pit silo is its low cost. Another point in its favor is the ease with which it may be filled, no blower or elevator being required; in a locality where silo filling machinery is scarce this is important. The main disadvantage lies in the difficulty with which it is removed, but as stated above, this can be done with no great difficulty. The accumulation of carbon dioxide in the lower part of the silo must also be looked out for, for this gas is given off by silage and may collect in sufficient quantities to suffocate any person descending into the silo. In a silo built above ground this possibility is eliminated by the ventilation permitted in the opening of the doors.

City In Brief

Father Clancy, the popular Catholic priest of Fulton, is a Dixon visitor.

Prof. A. H. Stoddard left this morning for Chicago where he will spend the day, after which he will go east, to Sand Lake, Pa., to meet his wife and accompany her home.

Adamless Eden.

That she is willing to subscribe $500,000 for a colony of women only—a real "Adamless Eden," was the declaration of Mrs. Kate T. Wolsey, prominent in New York society and one of the workers in the national forward to the land movement, which recently held a three-day convention at Boston. Mrs. Wolsey characterized the proposed colony as the only real Eden, where the women are to till the soil, equip their police force and fire department and elect their own officials. She hopes to establish the utopian colony in New York state. Vincent Astor is one of the enthusiastic backers of the league.

Carried Out Hunger Strike.

Hunger strike records were broken some years ago by a Frenchman named Granie, who was arrested for murder in circumstances which left no doubt as to his guilt. He determined to starve himself to death in order to escape the guillotine, and from the day of his arrest refused to eat in spite of every effort on the part of the prison authorities, who first tried tempting him to eat by placing the most dainty meals in his cell, and when that failed attempted forcible feeding. Granie held out for sixty-three days, at the end of which time he died.

Heckler Heckled.

The late Dr. W. R. Thomas, who was Pierpont Morgan's rector at Highland Falls, did not believe in Socialism, and in Socialist arguments he often exercised his trenchant wit to advantage. A Highland Falls man once interrupted Dr. Thomas in an address to shout: "If we all had equal opportunities—" But here Dr. Thomas, in his turn, interrupted, saying quickly: "We should not all be equal to them."

Feminine Reasoning.

Two tiny citizens, a boy and a girl, were making acquaintance. "Do you ever cry out loud?" asked the little lady. "No, I'm a big boy, and big boys don't cry, like girls and babies. So when I feel like crying I just shake my eyes up tight and keep the tears back." "Well, I don't," the little girl confessed, calmly. "I just let 'em roll down my cheeks all they want, and then I usually get what I want."

Teaching American Ways.

Miss Agga Andrup, a Danish journalist who has passed many years in America, is conducting a campaign in Denmark to encourage people to furnish and equip their homes in the American fashion. She is lecturing on the subject throughout the country, advising householders to do away with their many curtains and draperies which prevent light and air from getting into the houses.

TARIFF IN HOUSE;
TO SENATE SOON

Report of Conference Committee
Signed by Democratic Members Only.

TAX OFFSETS CUSTOMS LOSS

New Law Will Show Gain Over Receipts of Previous Years, According to Figures by Experts of Treasury Department.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The Democratic tariff revision bill advanced to its last congressional stage, when it was brought back to the house from the joint conference committee with the unanimous indorsement of the Democratic conferees.

Leaders in both houses of congress are confident that the bill, practically complete now, would be signed by President Wilson before the end of this week. It is expected to reach the senate Wednesday and to pass that body by Thursday.

The tariff scarcely will leave the center of the stage before the currency bill, next in line, will attract the attention of the country, and coincident with this will begin the administration work upon the anti-trust and railroad control programs that are to be brought forward when the December session opens.

Signed by Majority.

The tariff conference report went to the house soon after that body convened at noon. During the morning the full conference committee had given the report its formal approval.

Senators Simmons, Williams, Johnson and Shively and Representatives Underwood, Kitchen, Dixon and Rainey, the Democrats who have adjusted all differences between the senate and house, excepting only the cotton futures tax proposition, signed the final report, while the Republican and Progressive members declined to sign. The cotton futures tax still is in dispute.

Estimates Show Surplus.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee, gave out the first complete estimates of federal revenues and expenditures under the new tariff bill as made up by the experts from the treasury. The total estimates are as follows:

FOR YEAR ENDING JULY 1, 1914.
Receipts	$1,025,000,000
Expenditures	1,012,000,000
Surplus	$13,000,000
FOR YEAR ENDING JULY 1, 1915.
Receipts	$1,025,000,000
Expenditures	1,008,000,000
Surplus	$17,000,000
Estimated receipts under the customs tariff, the income tax and the corporation tax embraced in the new tariff are given as follows:
FOR 1914.
Customs revenue	$270,000,000
Income tax (ten months)	60,000,000
Corporation tax	35,000,000
FOR 1915.
Customs revenue	219,000,000
Income tax	52,000,000
Corporation tax	39,000,000

English Literary Consuls.

If America is famous for its ambassadors who have been men of letters, England can boast of her literary consuls. G. P. R. James, probably the most prolific English novelist (except, perhaps, Miss Braddon), wrote three novels a year for about forty years, and died in 1860 as consul general at Venice. Sir Richard Burton also wrote most of his travel books and translations of eastern works when consul in various parts of the world. At his last consulship at Trieste, which he held from 1872 to 1890, he succeeded Charles Lever, the Irish novelist, who had occupied the position for fifteen years. But is there a famous English literary consul at the present time?

The Flying Dutchman.

Rambout Van Dam, a roistering young Dutchman of Spuyten Duyvil, so the story runs, crossed the Tappan Sea on Saturday night in his boat to attend a quilting frolic on its western shore. He drank, danced and caroused until midnight, when he entered his boat to return. He was warned that it was on the verge of Sunday morning, but he swore a fearful oath that he would not land until he reached Spuyten Duyvil. If it took him a month of Sundays. He pushed from shore and was never seen again, yet he can still be heard by sailors and believing landsmen plying his oars over the lonely waters at midnight in never ending voyages between Spuyten Duyvil and the western shore—the Flying Dutchman of the Tappan Sea.—Hudson: Rambles in Colonial Byways.

Golf and Soldiering.

Gen. Bethune's complaint that the attractions of golf are keeping men from joining the territorials was being made four and a half centuries ago. In 1457 the Scottish parliament found it necessary to forbid the game altogether, as it was interfering with the practice of archery, so important for opposing "our auld enemies of England." But apparently the prohibition had little effect, for James IV. had to issue a fresh edict against golf, with severe penalties. Which, by the way, is amusing, since we know from entries in the accounts of the lord high treasurer of Scotland that the king himself indulged in the forbidden pastime.—London Chronicle.

"TIM" WOODRUFF STROKE VICTIM

New York Progressive Leader
Felled by Paralysis at Fusionist Meeting.

HIS CONDITION IS SERIOUS

Collapses After Notifying John Purroy Mitchell of His Nomination for Mayor—Praises Roosevelt and Attacks Tammany.

New York, Sept. 30.—Timothy L. Woodruff, three times lieutenant governor of this state, suffered a stroke of paralysis last night when he was delivering a speech at Cooper Union notifying John Purroy Mitchell of his nomination for fusionist mayor.

Physicians who attended him announced he suffered a stroke of paralysis and said his condition was serious.

As he was speaking, Mr. Woodruff turned to John Purroy Mitchell, fusionist candidate for mayor, and complained of a pain in his knee. He continued his address, however, but as he concluded, he reeled and would have fallen had not Mr. Mitchell and others on the platform supported him. He was removed to his apartments in an uptown hotel, accompanied by Mrs. Woodruff, who had attended the meeting with him.

Bitterly Attacks Tammany.
Mr. Woodruff had bitterly attacked Tammany Hall and praised Theodore Roosevelt and Governor Sulzer. He had just concluded a reference to William A. Prendergast, candidate for controller, when his legs sagged and he seemed about to fall. The last few words he uttered came in gasps and scarcely could be heard.

Mr. Woodruff is fifty-five years old and has been a political figure in New York state for nearly thirty years. Up to a year ago, when he left the Republican party and joined the Progressives, there were few Republican conventions which he did not attend as a delegate.

In 1888 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention and at the 1908 convention he nominated James Schoolcraft Sherman for vice-president. From 1897 to 1903 Mr. Woodruff was lieutenant governor of New York.

Mitchell Assails Murphy.
John Purroy Mitchell opened the campaign at Cooper Union with an attack on Charles F. Murphy in connection with the Sulzer impeachment proceedings and told the audience that Tammany is the issue of the city faces.

Henry L. Stimson, formerly secretary of war, presided and Norman Hapgood, chairman of the fusion committee, and others spoke.

PRINCESSES LEAVE HUSBANDS

Reports Heard in Regard to Manuel's Wife and Daughter of Kaiser.

Berlin, Sept. 30.—Two young royal couples now in Germany are occupying the attention and imagination of the press and public both here and abroad to a considerable extent.

The sudden illness of Princess Victoria of Hohenzollern, the bride of ex-King Manuel of Portugal, while on her honeymoon near Munich, and the mystery with which it has been surrounded have given rise to a flood of rumors, none of which appear to be based on actual knowledge. A report from Munich via Vienna says the princess will return to her home at Sigmaringen and it is alleged that she has said she never will live with her husband again.

The other royal couple whose affairs are occupying the attention of the papers and the people are the Kaiser's only daughter, Princess Victoria Luise, and her husband, Prince Ernst of Cumberland, who were married last May. A statement was made that the princess will return to her home at Rathenow as soon as her husband, Prince Ernst, returns from Gmund.

This bride has also been ill recently and this resulted in several hurried visits to Rathenow by her royal mother, who took her home to Potsdam. It also gave rise to a crop of rumors about a quarrel between the young couple.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

SOME PEOPLE WE KNOW, AND WE WILL PROFIT BY HEARING ABOUT THEM

This is purely a local event. It took place in Dixon. Not in some faraway place. You are asked to investigate it. Asked to believe a citizen's word. To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at Home is more worthy of confidence. Than one you know nothing about. Endorsed by unknown people.

Julius Gottlieb, merchant, 418 W. First St., Dixon, Ill., says: "My back had been causing me trouble. Often it was so lame and sore that it was hard to bend over. The kidney action was irregular and I knew that my kidneys were disordered. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a supply at Leake Bros. Co's Drug store. They did such good work that I recommended them. I am glad to do so again."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

New York, Sept. 30.—From about the middle of December to the end of March—more than three months—
Theodore Roosevelt will be buried in the wilds of South America.

Arrangements for this end of the colonel's South American trip were described, but the announcement did not tell much about times and places, because the colonel is not sure just where he will go or when he will emerge into civilized country.

Colonel Roosevelt will sail from
New York October 4 and will spend about two months visiting various cities in Brazil, Argentina, Chili and Paraguay.

Speaking of the Divorce Evil

Trying to succeed in business without advertising is like the case of the man who, trying to succeed, divorced his wife and alone attempted to keep house and raise his children.
It cost him more money for doctors bills and funeral expenses in a year than he gave his wife in a lifetime.

When advertising to divorced, business success becomes failure.

This paper is building your neighbor's business. He has reasons. He tried advertising and it helped him. It is not an experiment—this paper brings results. Good, hard, convincing results—dollars.
